Following a very successful AGM last night, details will follow over the weekend Thursday night squash was resumed and after a few weeks of poor availability Thursday was back on and very much looked forward to

Lan Con (10) Vs Hasi 1 (15)

Smash and grab if you have ever seen it and in the own back yard of the Queens constabulary. Travelling over to Preston minus Stalwart McVicker (Holiday) and Hasi 1 Gordon you might be forgiven thinking we had a weakened team, not tonight Josephine as the Hasi spirit shone through with everyone stepping up to the plate and leading the way.

Masterful Mr Scurlock set us off sadly coming a close second due to injury which he tried to play through and if we had some pain killing steroids to inject he would have happily accepted, thankfully we didn't so Dave will live to fight another day, after a little rest. Meanwhile on the other court sporting my new fuller figure we had a familiar tail of wow, narrowly losing (gifting) the first 2 games to fall 2 behind, then a couple of lucky bounces and a realisation that after doing very little for a few weeks the fuel tank is not a limitless supply managed to shift the momentum, all facilitated by stepping up the court by 2 feet and taking the ball earlier, bingo shades of last winter a 3-2 and fortunately a win and this at nu 2 after being slaughtered at 3 the previous week.

Meanwhile on the other Court Captain Corteen having seen the comeback came out from hiding behind his team and for the first time in several weeks and decided to put a shift in, not before time I say. A great shift it was, and victory achieved. Meanwhile Tim had stepped up to 1 and took the hit for us, to be fair played really well and was inches from succeeding, match 2-2 , up step Mr steady and reliable Ben, no problem. At 1-1 and choking on my Valium from watching Ben it was time to leave and shower, I couldn't handle it, clearly the right thing to do as he then strolled the next 2 games, match won - helps massively by keeping us that bit further away from the bottom but still looking over our shoulders.

Hasi 1 minus Gordon, Tom M, Simon Latham Tan, Tom E, Simon Watkinson, Shelly W, Mick W, and numerous others that fancy a shot at the top, the futures bright ☺

Hasi 2 (3) East Lancs (20)

Even though East Lancs were missing their top two players tonight they were still too strong for us.

Aiden made his debut as our latest junior to step forward and made the very old and very experienced Mr Johnston run as often as he could. Some good drives to a length are always appreciated by the crowd on the balcony as they can see the junior coaching efforts paying off. Lost 0-3.

Derek lost 0-3 to Andy Wyn-Jones, games were close but not close enough.

Performance of the night from Steve Michie narrowly missing out 2-3 despite twice coming back to level the match at 1-1 and 2-2.

Andy played the Wyn-Jones minor who looks very talented indeed when he doesn't lose his head. Some great squash to watch and Andy took the 3rd game with grim determination. Lost 1-3 in the end

Finally, Simon B against the tricky and skilful Mark Nightingale was also a good match to watch and Simon put a shift in to win some great rallies, but not enough to gain the win. Lost 0-3.
